I understand that permission to examine archival material, of any sort, if granted, does not include permission to publish the contents, or parts thereof, of the material examined. A separate written application to obtain permission to publish must be made through the Arnold Arboretum Library. Permission is required for quotations used in a book, article, doctoral dissertation, videotape, or any other work, in any medium, that is to be made public.

I understand further that the Arnold Arboretum makes no representation that it is the owner of the copyright in any unpublished manuscript, and that permission to publish must be obtained from the owner of the copyright (the author or his/her transferees, heirs, legatees, or literary executors).

If I should request photographic or other reproduction of any archival materials listed below, I agree that the reproduction is to be made solely for my convenience in examining the material; that the reproduction will not itself be reproduced; and that it will not be examined by or transferred to any other person or institution without the prior written permission of the Botany Libraries and the Director of the Harvard University Herbaria.

In consideration of my being granted permission to examine the items listed below, on the terms set forth above, I agree to indemnify and hold harmless the University, its officers, employees, and agents from and against all claims made by any person asserting that he/she is an owner of the copyright.
